Awakening with AI: spiritual dialogue between Man and machine by Nair, Abhinav

Book on The Boat 2025

Acc. No.: 53026 Call No.: 006.3 ISBN: 9789389785708

Summary: Dr. Abhinav Nair is an internal medicine consultant trained in India and the UK, with years of experience caring for patients across hospitals, emergency rooms, and intensive care. Alongside his medical career, his life has been shaped by a deep and persistent inquiry into the nature of suffering, self, and reality. Born with early challenges and tested through personal trials, his journey led him beyond conventional answers to the heart of non-dual understanding. Inspired by sages like Ramana Maharshi, Nisargadatta Maharaj, and contemporary teachers, his inquiry took an unexpected turn when he began exploring spiritual questions with AI - discovering that even here, the timeless wisdom of awareness shines. Through this book, Dr. Nair shares not teachings or doctrines, but an open-hearted dialogue - an invitation for every reader to discover the simplicity of Being for themselves.

The rigor of angels: Borges, Heisenberg, Kant and the ultimate nature of reality by Egginton, William

Pantheon Books 2023

Acc. No.: 53023 Call No.: 111 ISBN: 9780593316306

Summary: Argentine poet Jorge Luis Borges was madly in love when his life was shattered by painful heartbreak. But the breakdown that followed illuminated an incontrovertible truth—that love is necessarily imbued with loss, that the one doesn't exist without the other. German physicist Werner Heisenberg was fighting with the scientific establishment on the meaning of the quantum realm's absurdity when he had his own epiphany—that there is no such thing as a complete, perfect description of reality. Prussian philosopher Immanuel Kant pushed the assumptions of human reason to their mind-bending conclusions, but emerged with an idea that crowned a towering philosophical system—that the human mind has fundamental limits, and those limits undergird both our greatest achievements as well as our missteps.

NEW ARRIVALS, FEBRUARY 2026

I never thought of it that way: how to have fearlessly curious conversations in dangerously divided times by Guzman, Monica

BenBella Books 2024

Acc. No.: 53038 Call No.: 153.6 ISBN: 9781637746028

Summary: Journalist Mónica Guzmán is the loving liberal daughter of Mexican immigrants who voted—twice—for Donald Trump. When the country could no longer see straight across the political divide, Mónica set out to find what was blinding us and discovered the most eye-opening tool we're not using: our own built-in curiosity.

Partisanship is up, trust is down, and our social media feeds make us sure we're right and everyone else is ignorant (or worse). But avoiding one another is hurting our relationships and our society.

In this timely, personal guide, Mónica, the chief storyteller for the national cross-partisan depolarization organization Braver Angels, takes you to the real front lines of a crisis that threatens to grind America to a halt—broken conversations among confounded people. She shows you how to overcome the fear and certainty that surround us to finally do what only seems impossible: understand and even learn from people in your life whose whole worldview is different from or even opposed to yours.

A little history of philosophy by Warburton, Nigel

Yale University Press 2025

Acc. No.: 53045 Call No.: 190 ISBN: 9780300283266

Summary: Philosophy begins with the nature of reality and how we should live. These were the concerns of Socrates, who spent his days in the ancient Athenian marketplace asking awkward questions, disconcerting the people he met by showing them just how little they genuinely understood.

This engaging Little History introduces the great thinkers in Western philosophy and explores their most compelling ideas about the universe and our place in it. Nigel Warburton guides us on a tour of the lives and work of thought-provoking philosophers – from the certainty of Descartes ('I think, therefore I am') to Hannah Arendt who examined crimes against humanity and taught us 'the banality of evil'.

The hidden Hindu: trilogy three volumes set by Gupta, Akshat

Penguin Random House 2022

Acc. No.: 53056-53058 Call No.: 294.5 ISBN: 9780143455691

Summary: Prithvi, a twenty-one-year-old, is searching for a mysterious middle-aged aghori (Shiva devotee), Om Shastri, who was traced more than 200 years ago before he was captured and transported to a high-tech facility on an isolated Indian island. When the aghori was drugged and hypnotized for interrogation by a team of specialists, he claimed to have witnessed all four yugas (the epochs in Hinduism) and even participated in both Ramayana and Mahabharata. Om's revelations of his incredible past that defied the nature of mortality left everyone baffled. The team also discovers that Om had been in search of the other immortals from every yuga. These bizarre secrets could shake up the ancient beliefs of the present and alter the course of the future. So who is Om Shastri? Why was he captured? Board the boat of Om Shastri's secrets, Prithvi's pursuit and adventures of other enigmatic immortals of Hindu mythology in this exciting and revealing journey.

The Islamic secular by Jackson, Sherman A

Oxford University Press 2024

Acc. No.: 53020 Call No.: 297.28 ISBN: 9780197661789

Summary: The basic point of the secular in the modern West is to "liberate" certain pursuits--the state, the economy, science--from the authority of religion. This is also assumed to be the goal and meaning of "secular" in Islam. Sherman Jackson argues, however, that that assumption is wrong. In Islam the "secular" was neither outside "religion" nor a rival to it. "Religion," in Islam was not identical to Islam's "sacred law," or "shari'ah." Nor did classical Muslim jurists see shari'ah as the all-encompassing, exclusive means of determining what is "Islamic." In fact, while, as religion, Islam's jurisdiction was unlimited, shari'ah's jurisdiction, as a sacred law, was limited. In other words, while everything remained within the purview of the divine gaze of the God of Islam, not everything could be determined by shari'ah or on the basis of its revelatory sources. Various aspects of state-policy, the economy, science, and the like were "differentiated," from shari'ah and its revelatory sources, without becoming non-religious or un-Islamic. Given the asymmetry between the circumference of shari'ah and that of Islam as religion, not everything that fell outside the former fell outside the latter.

Digital public infrastructure: foundations for an inclusive digital economy by Kumar, Rakesh

Atlantic Publishers 2025

Acc. No.: 53033 Call No.: 303.4833 ISBN: 9798296411792

Summary: In the 21st century, the digital economy has emerged as a powerful engine for societal transformation, economic growth, and inclusive development. At the heart of this transformation lies Digital Public Infrastructure (DPI)-a foundational digital layer that enables countries to deliver essential services, empower citizens, and foster innovation at scale. From digital identity systems and interoperable payment rails to consent-based data sharing and open networks, DPI is reshaping how governments, markets, and communities interact in a digitally interconnected world.

This book-Digital Public Infrastructure: Foundations for an Inclusive Digital Economy-explores how DPI is building bridges across digital divides, unlocking access for rural populations, senior citizens, women, the disabled, and other underserved groups. It shows how robust DPI can form the backbone of a resilient, equitable, and trusted digital society-one where individuals are not just consumers of digital services, but active participants in a data-empowered economy.

The world of the Cold War: 1945-1991: a Pelican book by Zubok, Vladislav Martinovic

Penguin Books 2025

Acc. No.: 53031, 53034 Call No.: 327.73047 ISBN: 9780241696149

Summary: In this comprehensive guide to the most widespread conflict in contemporary history, Vladislav Zubok traces the origins of the Cold War in post-war Europe, through the tumultuous decades of confrontation, to the fall of the Berlin Wall and beyond. With remarkable clarity and unique perspective, Zubok argues that the Cold War, often seen as an existential battle between capitalist democracy and totalitarian communism, has long been misunderstood. He challenges the popular Western narrative that economic superiority and democratic values led the USA to victory. Instead, he looks beyond the familiar images of East-West rivalry, shining a light on the impact of non-Western actors and placing the war in the context of global decolonization, Soviet weakness and the accidents of history. Here, he interrogates what happens when stability and peace are no longer the default, when treaties are broken and when diplomacy ceases to function.

Beyond shareholder primacy: remaking capitalism for a sustainable future by Hart, Stuart L

Stanford University Press, Stanford 2024

Acc. No.: 53046 Call No.: 330.122 ISBN: 9781503636217

Summary: Our current Milton Friedman–style "shareholder primacy capitalism," as taught in business schools and embraced around the world, has become dangerous for society, the climate, and the planet. Moreover, Stuart L. Hart argues, it's economically unnecessary. But there are surprising reasons for hope—from the history of capitalism itself. Beyond Shareholder Primacy argues that capitalism has reformed itself twice before and is poised for a third major reformation. Retelling the origin story of capitalism from the fifteenth century to the present, Hart argues that a radically sustainable, just capitalism is possible, and even likely, in our lifetime.

Hart goes on to describe what it will take to move beyond capitalism's present worship of "shareholder primacy," including corporate transformations to re-embed purpose and reforms to major economic institutions.

Law and practice of non-banking financial companies by Kothari, Vinod

LexisNexis 2025

Acc. No.: 53059 Call No.: 332 ISBN: 9789349015210

Summary: Law and Practice of Non-Banking Financial Companies is an in-depth exposition of the regulatory framework for Non-Banking Financial Companies (NBFCs). The book provides a structured, critical and detailed commentary on the Master Directions – Reserve Bank of India (Non-Banking Financial Company – Scale Based Regulation) Directions, 2023 as also several other relevant directions, and circulars of the RBI for. From traditional lending products such as secured loans, gold loans, vehicle loans, loans against properties and loans against shares, it provides complete regulatory inputs on new-age products such as digital lending, BNPL, supply chain financing, factoring, loans against receivables and consumer credit. Designed as an essential resource for practitioners, policymakers and students of law and regulations applicable to NBFCs, this treatise is enriched with years of practical experience of the authors as consultants to leading NBFCs. Where needed, the book looks at comparable global laws, Basel regulations or the law applicable to banks to get contextual meaning for the regulatory framework.

The investment philosophers: financial lessons from the great thinkers by Everett, Ethan

Columbia University Press 2025

Acc. No.: 53042 Call No.: 332.6 ISBN: 9780231221115

Summary: What do Warren Buffett and Friedrich Nietzsche have in common? Why does Baruch Spinoza's understanding of irrational emotions help explain financial markets? How did Voltaire's success in a bond lottery arbitrage shape his writing? Can David Hume teach an investor when to buck the consensus and when to heed it?

Exploring these questions and many others, Ethan A. Everett reveals the surprising lessons we can learn about investing from major philosophers. Demystifying ideas and texts that can often seem intimidating or irrelevant, he shows how philosophical concepts can be fruitfully applied to financial markets. Everett shares how philosophers' insights have informed his development as an investor, and he considers how great investors have embodied philosophical wisdom in their own endeavours.

Inviting and engaging, The Investment Philosophers presents evergreen insights in language that is accessible to readers who are beginning their journeys in finance and philosophy. Ranging from the birth of modern securities markets in seventeenth-century Amsterdam to recent trends like meme stocks, this book shows why a philosophical perspective can prove invaluable to challenging common assumptions in finance.

Rich dad poor dad: what the rich teach their kids about money that the poor and middle class do not by Kiyosaki, Robert T

Plata Publishing 2022

Acc. No.: 53024 Call No.: 332.67 ISBN: 9781612681139

Summary: April of 2022 marks a 25-year milestone for the personal finance classic Rich Dad Poor Dad that still ranks as the #1 Personal Finance book of all time. And although 25 years have passed since Rich Dad Poor Dad was first published, readers will find that very little in the book itself has changed — and for good reason. While so much in our world is changing a high speed, the lessons about money and the principles of Rich Dad Poor Dad haven't changed. Today, as money continues to play a key role in our daily lives, the messages in Robert Kiyosaki's international bestseller are more timely and more important than ever.

Crusading for globalization: US multinationals and their opponents since 1945 by Schaufelbuehl, Janick Marina

University of Pennsylvania Press 2025

Acc. No.: 53047 Call No.: 337.73 ISBN: 9781512827156

Summary: The first book to shed light on what caused corporate executives to pursue a pro-globalization agenda and to examine their methods for dealing with their opponents, Crusading for Globalization reveals the historical roots of today's disparities in wealth and income distribution.

Fatal abstraction: why the managerial class loses control of software by Campbell, Darryl

W W Norton & Company 2025

Acc. No.: 53043 Call No.: 338.064 ISBN: 9781324078951

Summary: Software was supposed to radically improve society. Outdated mechanical systems would be easily replaced; programs like PowerPoint would make information flow more freely; social media platforms like Facebook would bring people together; and generative AI would solve the world's greatest ills. Yet in practice, few of the systems we looked to with such high hopes have lived up to their fundamental mandate. In fact, in too many cases they've made things worse, exposing us to immense risk at the societal and the individual levels. How did we get to this point? Fatal Abstraction Fatal Abstraction.

NEW ARRIVALS, FEBRUARY 2026

Ruin their crops on the ground: the politics of food in the United States, from the Trail of Tears to school lunch by Freeman, Andrea

Metropolitan Books 2024

Acc. No.: 53036 Call No.: 338.1973 ISBN: 9781250871039

Summary: In 1779, to subjugate Indigenous nations, George Washington ordered his troops to “ruin their crops now in the ground and prevent their planting more.” Destroying harvests is just one way that the United States has used food as a political tool. Trying to prevent enslaved people from rising up, enslavers restricted their consumption, providing only enough to fuel labor. Since the Great Depression, school lunches have served as dumping grounds for unwanted agricultural surpluses.

From frybread to government cheese, Ruin Their Crops on the Ground draws on over fifteen years of research to argue that U.S. food law and policy have created and maintained racial and social inequality. In an epic, sweeping account, Andrea Freeman, who pioneered the term “food oppression,” moves from colonization to slavery to the Americanization of immigrant food culture, to the commodities supplied to Native reservations, to milk as a symbol of white supremacy.

Inevitable: inside the messy, unstoppable transition to electric vehicles by Colias, Mike

Harvard Business Review Press 2025

Acc. No.: 53019, 53022 Call No.: 338.3493 ISBN: 9781647825386

Summary: The question is no longer if electric vehicles will happen, or even when they'll happen, but how. Veteran automotive reporter Mike Colias takes you inside the transformation in this thoroughly reported profile of the hard pivot in the car business, a $2 trillion industry undergoing the biggest change in its 120-year history—a change that is already sending ripples across the entire global economy.

Colias documents the inevitable shift from pistons to electrons from every angle, taking you inside the boardrooms where executives battle over their EV strategies to take on Tesla and, more recently, emerging Chinese powerhouses such as BYD. He brings you to family-run car dealerships deciding if they'll sell EVs—or sell their businesses. He follows entrepreneurs along lonely stretches of road that will soon need charging stations. He talks to power-train engineers whose skills were once the beating heart of the automotive industry but who now find themselves being replaced by coders.

NEW ARRIVALS, FEBRUARY 2026

The Sing Sing files: one journalist, six innocent men and a twenty-year fight for justice by Slepian, Dan

Celadon Books 2024

Acc. No.: 53037 Call No.: 364.1523 ISBN: 9781250897701

Summary: In 2002, Dan Slepian, a veteran producer for NBC's Dateline, received a tip from a Bronx homicide detective that two men were serving twenty-five years to life in prison for a 1990 murder they did not commit.

Haunted by what the detective had told him, Slepian began an investigation of the case that eventually resulted in freedom for the two men and launched Slepian on a two-decade personal and professional journey into a deeply flawed justice system fiercely resistant to rectifying—or even acknowledging—its mistakes and their consequences.

The Sing Sing Files: One Journalist, Six Innocent Men, and a Twenty-Year Fight for Justice is Slepian's account of challenging that system.

Beyond three generations: the definitive guide to building enduring Indian family businesses by Meeran, Navas

HarperCollins Publishers 2024

Acc. No.: 53055 Call No.: 658.044 ISBN: 9789356998353

Summary: Various global studies over the decades have shown that only a handful of family businesses survive beyond the third generation, while more than 90 percent flounder. Why? What is the secret sauce that keeps these organizations going strong from one generation to the next? Can their models be successfully replicated by other family businesses? For the first time, two entrepreneurs, a family business consultant and a senior journalist—all expert in their fields—have teamed up to understand why only some family businesses survive beyond the third generation and how other businesses can follow the same blueprint for longevity.

With a special focus on micro, small and medium enterprises, Beyond Three Generations studies twelve family-run enterprises across industries. While not traditionally large businesses, all of these—Aravind Eye Care System, Bhima Jewellers, Dodla Dairy, Eastern Condiments, ELICO Ltd, Evolve Back, Gera Developments, House of Anita Dongre, IBS Software, Omni Active Health Technologies, Popular Automobiles and Sandu Pharmaceuticals—are well recognized within their sectors, mostly with turnovers of more than?

Corporate social responsibility and economic responsiveness in India by Krichewsky, Damien

Cambridge University Press 2019

Acc. No.: 53027 Call No.: 658.408 ISBN: 9781108485364

Summary: Since the early 2000s, corporate social responsibility (CSR) has rapidly gained significance in India, both among large companies and as a policy instrument formally intended to foster corporate contributions to the country's development goals. This book analyses this phenomenon in relation to broader political and economic changes induced by India's 'pro-business' development strategy. Using a systems-theoretical approach, the analysis shows that 'pro-business' policies have led profit-driven economic processes to increasingly override collective aspirations for social welfare, environmental protection, and democracy. In order to decipher how CSR changes the interplays between profit-making and developmental aspirations, the book provides detailed analyses of CSR in the cement industry and in regulatory policies adopted by the central government.

Digital to the core: remastering leadership for your industry, your enterprise and yourself by Raskino, Mark

Routledge 2015

Acc. No.: 53060 Call No.: 658.4092 ISBN: 9781629560731

Summary: There is no simple strategic method for dealing with the multidimensional nature of digital change. Even the sharpest leaders can become disoriented as change builds on change, leaving almost nothing certain. Yet to stand still is to fail. Enterprises and leaders must re-master themselves to succeed. Leaders must identify the key macro forces, then lead their organizations at three distinct levels: industry, enterprise, and self. By doing this they cannot only survive but clean up. Digital to the Core makes the case that all business leaders must understand the impact the digital revolution will continue to play in their industries, companies, and leadership style and practices. Drawing on interviews with over 30 top C-level executives in some of the world's most powerful companies and government organizations, including GE, Ford, Tory Burch, Babolat, McDonalds, Publicis and UK Government Digital Service, this book delivers practical insights from those on the front lines of major digital upheaval.

NEW ARRIVALS, FEBRUARY 2026

Hoodwinked: how marketers use the same tactics as cults by Einstein, Mara

Prometheus Books 2025

Acc. No.: 53048 Call No.: 658.8 ISBN: 9781493086153

Summary: Big brands are the gods of today's world, and the algorithm is their gospel. What makes the cult marketing vortex so attractive to otherwise smart people, and how does online manipulation render us victim to the dangerous whims of digital companies, corporations, and conglomerates? Hoodwinked reveals the new world of digital marketing where steady, seductive tactics once used by spiritual charlatans are now applied to sell everything from toothpaste to apps and even political leaders.

Companies have discovered that us consumers are lured by sophisticated and deceptive marketing techniques, like sensory marketing, cult branding, influencers, and AI programmed to induce maximum anxiety. Combined with behavior-modifying apps and persuasively designed UX that compels us to buy things we don't need or cannot afford, goods and services like prestige education, fitness trackers, makeup, and those viral leggings from American Eagle seem like must-haves rather than luxury extras.

The Dial Press 2025

Acc. No.: 53025, 53035 Call No.: 811.6 ISBN: 9780593733707

Summary: Beloved spoken word poet Sarah Kay brings us her long-awaited second full-length poetry collection, a decade after her acclaimed debut No Matter the Wreckage. In A Little Daylight Left, Kay explores life's most vulnerable moments of transition with courage, curiosity, joy, and humor. Each poem invites readers to consider what it might look like to boldly face the hard things we so often run from—a heartbreak, an ailing loved one, the fear that comes with new beginnings and uncertain futures. The result is a blueprint for discovering beauty in all that makes us human. With her signature wit and wisdom, Kay shows us how to navigate life bravely, with every single part of ourselves.

NEW ARRIVALS, FEBRUARY 2026

Ginkgo season: a novel by Elegant, Naomi Xu

W W Norton & Company 2025

Acc. No.: 53032 Call No.: 823 ISBN: 9781324086147

Summary: Ginkgo Season This wise and tender-hearted novel explores the nature of our deepest friendships as seriously as it does the dizzying terror and thrill of falling in love, and the complications of trying to live a life that matches your ideals.

40 hours the unbounding: a Southbound ride to the edge of India an unravelling he never saw coming by Vineet

Yuvaan Books 2026

Acc. No.: 53028 Call No.: 823 ISBN: 9789347125911

Summary: What if a single journey could unmake your past and rewrite your future? For T. Jaydevan, numb with grief and drifting through life, forty southbound hours become anything but routine. The deeper he travels into India, the more the world he knows begins to split. Long-buried truths stir. Identities blur. And a revelation he never imagined breaks through: his parents' deaths were no accident. From crowded northern platforms to the ocean edge at Kanyakumari, he is drawn into a covert world where espionage, memory, and hidden stories collide. A conspiracy capable of reshaping civilization rises into view, and fate gathers unlikely allies beside him, each carrying their own untold pasts.

Hidden nature by Roberts, Nora

Piatkus 2025

Acc. No.: 53018 Call No.: 823 ISBN: 9780349443317

Summary: Natural Resources police officer, Sloan Cooper, and her partner had just taken down three men preying on hikers in the Western Maryland mountains. Driving back, she pulled in at a convenience store—and walked right into a robbery in progress. One gunshot from a jittery thief was about to change her world. After being shocked back to life on the operating table, she has a long recovery ahead, so she moves back to her parents' peaceful house in Heron's Rest. As for the boyfriend who dumped her via text while she was in the hospital, good riddance.

The antidote by Russell, Karen

Chatto & Windus 2025

Acc. No.: 53029 Call No.: 823 ISBN: 9781784745639

Summary: Uz, Nebraska, 1930s: Visit The Antidote – a prairie witch who can keep your memories safe. Speak into her emerald-green earhorn, and your secrets, your shames, your private joys, will leave your mind and enter hers.

But after the great dust storm that flattens wheat fields, buries houses and kills a newlywed couple just a few feet from their car, the Antidote wakes up empty – as bankrupt as America. If her customers ever find out, her life will be in danger.

To the Antidote's surprising defence come a farmer, his basketball-playing niece and a Black photographer with her time-travelling camera. Apart, they run from the memories that have brought them to this lonely brink. Together, they face down the tornado coming their way.

The Antidote is above all a reckoning with a nation's forgetting – theft, dispossession, wilful blindness, passed on generation to generation. The Dust Bowl echo with warnings of our own time, daring to challenge us with what might have been – and what still could be.

The biggest prison on earth: a history of the occupied territories by Pappé, Ilan

Oneworld Publications 2024

Acc. No.: 53040 Call No.: 920 ISBN: 9781786073419

Summary: Shortlisted for the Palestine Book Awards 2017 A powerful, ground-breaking history of the Occupied Territories from one of Israel's most influential historians from the author of the bestselling study of the 1948 War of Independence comes an incisive look at the Occupied Territories, picking up the story where The Ethnic Cleansing of Palestine left off. In this comprehensive exploration of one of the world's most prolonged and tragic conflicts, Pappé uses recently declassified archival material to analyse the motivations and strategies of the generals and politicians – and the decision-making process itself – that laid the foundation of the occupation. From a survey of the legal and bureaucratic infrastructures that were put in place to control the population of over one million Palestinians, to the security mechanisms that vigorously enforced that control, Pappé paints a picture of what is to all intents and purposes the world's largest 'open prison'.

NEW ARRIVALS, FEBRUARY 2026

The devil at his elbow: Alex Murdaugh and the fall of a Southern dynasty by Bauerlein, Valerie

Ballantine Books 2025

Acc. No.: 53030 Call No.: 920 ISBN: 9780593500606

Summary: Alex Murdaugh was a benevolent dictator—the president of the South Carolina trial lawyers’ association, a political boss, a part-time prosecutor, and a partner in his family’s law firm. He was always ready with a favor, a drink, and an invitation to Moselle, his family’s 1,700-acre hunting estate. The Murdaugh name ignited respect—and fear—for a hundred miles.

When he murdered his wife, Maggie, and son Paul at Moselle on a dark summer night, the fragile façade of Alex’s world could no longer hold. His forefathers had covered up a midnight suicide at a remote railroad crossing, a bootlegging ring run from a courthouse, and the attempted murder of a pregnant lover. Alex, too, almost walked away from his unspeakable crimes with his reputation intact, but his downfall was secured by a twist of fate, some stray mistakes, and a fateful decision by an old friend who’d finally seen enough.

A Place Called Yellowstone: The epic history of the world's first national park by Wilson, Randall K

Counterpoint 2024

Acc. No.: 53039 Call No.: 978.752 ISBN: 9781640096653

Summary: It has been called Wonderland, America’s Serengeti, the crown jewel of the National Park System, and America’s best idea. But how did this faraway landscape evolve into one of the most recognizable places in the world? As the birthplace of the national park system, Yellowstone witnessed the first-ever attempt to protect wildlife, to restore endangered species, and to develop a new industry centered on nature tourism.

Yellowstone remains a national icon, one of the few entities capable of bridging ideological divides in the United States. Yet the park’s history is also filled with episodes of conflict and exclusion, setting precedents for Native American land dispossession, land rights disputes, and prolonged tensions between commercialism and environmental conservation. Yellowstone’s legacies are both celebratory and problematic. A Place Called Yellowstone tells the comprehensive story of Yellowstone National Park as the story of the nation itself.
