

Campus Update on COVID 19

IMT stands united with the nation as part of the Covid-19 lockdown, with the utmost concern for the health and safety of all our stakeholders, IMT has taken all preventive measures and initiatives to be safe during this pandemic. The government-mandated lockdown has disrupted the conduct of courses in educational institutes, with the majority of all, switching to online modes of content delivery. The transition from the physical classroom mode to the virtual mode needed setup of the necessary physical infrastructure, integration of Learning Management Systems (LMS), and faculty training through workshops to familiarise themselves with teaching in the virtual mode. IMT has successfully transformed to the virtual classroom learning with latest technology and by not compromising on the teaching pedagogy in online mode.

We have also enabled our employees to work from home and conduct classes via online mode using the latest VC platforms, effectively ensuring safety for everyone. The last year has been challenging for everyone. We are incredibly grateful for the dedication of our faculty and staff, with whose support we have been able to continue to impart education to our students in the best possible way.

At IMT, we are closely monitoring the evolving situation of the outbreak of the coronavirus and related travel restrictions, and adjusting plans for imparting program delivery as the events warrant. The situation is being monitored regularly, and necessary actions are taken for the same. However, amid the uncertainty surrounding COVID-19, if the face-to-face classes on campus aren't feasible at the moment, the same classes will be delivered online for June 2021 batch. As soon as Govt. mandate allows us, we will be switching to the classroom model of teaching to revive the face-to-face interactions on campus.

Most online classes will be delivered using the latest interface technology, which offers our students a live classroom-like experience virtually.

Our prayers and best wishes are there for everyone's good health and safety.

We wish that everybody stays safe
